

BEDWELL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Family Story Night

The Bedwell H.S.A. hosted the first ever Family Story Night. It may have been chilly outside, but it was warm and cozy inside as students in their pj's, along with their parents, traveled round the school with stops in decorated rooms that delighted and sparked imaginations. At each location, Story Night participants enjoyed Read Aloud stories from the mystery readers: Mr. Angri, Mr. Thurlow, Mrs. Friedman, bus driver Mr. Patrick and Ms. Phelan. Students also enjoyed taking part in a craft activity along with delicious chocolate milk and cookies. It was a fun, engaging night for all the Bedwell families who attended.

Nutrition

Four times a year, Bedwell 3rd graders partner with Shop Rite Dietitian/Nutritionist/RN, Mrs. Allie Sanderson, for hands-on learning workshops focusing on balanced nutrition and healthy choices. Mrs. Sanderson teaches our students real-life nutrition skills about MyPlate and the food groups, how to read a nutrition label, energy balance, and Go, Slow, Whoa Snacks. We are thankful to be a part of this community outreach project!

Thank You to our Veterans

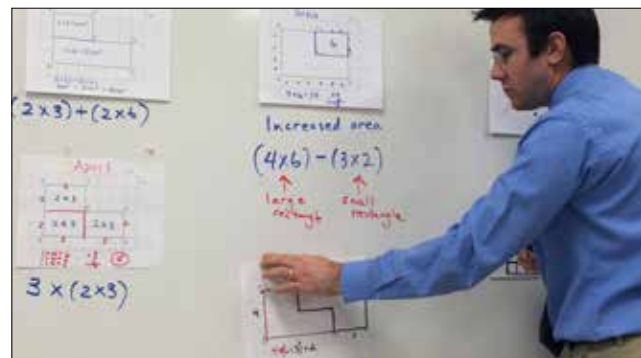

Local veterans picked up 15 boxes of Halloween candy donated by Bedwell students to send to the troops!

Bedwell and our local veterans honor those lost on Pearl Harbor Day and reflect on its meaning.

Professional Development

During the first two weeks of December, Bedwell teachers were engaged in professional learning on best practices for teaching through problem solving. Grant Kolmer, Supervisor of Math, Science, and Technology Education, is seen highlighting multiple solutions to a mathematics problem discussed during the session.

BERNARDSVILLE MIDDLE SCHOOL

DARE Graduation

In December, 7th graders at BMS celebrated their graduation from DARE with a pizza lunch and a chance to rub elbows with Bernardsville's finest. Thank you to the Municipal Alliance and the Bernardsville Lions Club for their support of this work.

Hour of Code

During December's Computer Science Education Week BMS students participated in an Hour of Code, a global effort to encourage students' exploration of computer science. These 5th graders tried their hands at a drag-and-drop visual programming language incorporating conditionals, sequences, and loops designed to help students master the logic of coding.

Bernardsville Middle School Theater

For the first time in the district's history, this year's 7th-8th grade play featured student choreography. Disney's The Lion King Jr. highlighted the wonderful talents of our performers and choreographers. Sierra Emery choreographed three musical numbers; Casey Ferrante, Kelsey Walsh, and Mia McHugh added their expertise to one number.

Community Outreach

BMS knows that it is always better to give than to receive! Among our holiday efforts: 22 staff members donated over 130 gifts for local children, and the entire school community collected countless coats, hats, scarves and mittens for the Somerset County Food Bank.

Lunch in the Library Speaker Series

55 students kicked off BMS' new Lunch in the Library Speaker Series with guest speaker Corey Heyer, the Executive Chef at The Bernards Inn. Students were able to learn all about a day in the life of an Executive Chef, as well as how they might one day prepare for this type of career. BMS looks forward to this new lunch time opportunity and welcomes local adults who are willing to talk about their own career paths, hobbies, or special interests.

Student Character Award

Every other month Bernardsville Middle School recognizes students demonstrating good character; these students were celebrated for their optimism during the month of December. The thoughtful letters home, certificates, and pizza lunch they received only added to their positive spirits.

The Veterans' Outreach Club attended a flag ceremony with the V.F.W. on November 10th to honor veterans who served our country. The main goal of the club is to raise awareness for veterans' issues and serve our local veteran and active duty military community. Three members of the Veterans' Outreach Club, Luke Stauffer, Jack Topping, and Timmy Lallis, attended the ceremony. Jack gave a wonderful speech and presented a wood burned plaque in the shape of an American flag as a token of appreciation to John Sternick for the local V.F.W.

Anatomy Class

A yoga class was well received by students in BHS' Anatomy class. Instructors used anatomical terminology to describe yoga positions and muscle groups. Students were excited to boast of their understanding of sophisticated anatomical vocabulary.

The Somerset Hills School District

HAPPENINGS

JANUARY 2017

Strategic Plan

The Somerset Hills Board of Education is beginning the development of a Strategic Plan. We will be working to identify both strengths in the school district (those special attributes that the district can build on as we move forward) and the critical issues that we will face (the challenges that the district must identify).

Very soon there will be a survey on our website (www.shsd.org) that asks for input on the concerns of the community. We encourage everyone to fill in the survey.

Board of Education

The Board of Education welcomed Kathleen Tober, Bernardsville Representative and Monica Burch, Bedminster Representative, as its newest members.
